

WAR RELIEF SECTION

NEW DEPARTMENT OF TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The Red Cross war relief and recreation committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club held its first regular meeting on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Dan Campbell. Twenty-four ladies assembled. The meeting was opened by singing "America." Knitting needles and skeins of yarn mysteriously appeared, and soon the click of needles formed an accompaniment to the hum of conversation.

At 12 o'clock the refreshment committee, consisting of Mrs. V. Price Brown and Mrs. John G. Hunchberger, invited the knitting squad to dainty refreshments. After luncheon athletics were scheduled, but since that department had not quite completed its arrangements a stroll about the grounds was substituted, to the delight of all.

The plan regarding gymnastics was reconsidered, and on account of the many advantages offered, it was thought more advisable to hold this class at the Y. W. C. A. in Los Angeles. A very attractive program was outlined by Miss Ella Stevers, of the department of physical training of the Y. W. C. A., to which the members gave enthusiastic endorsement.

The class is to meet Tuesday mornings at 10 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. building to receive instruction in physical culture, which includes instruction in swimming. The gymnasium, showers and plunge are all open to the members of the class and splendid as well as beneficial times are in store. Any member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club may join the class. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Dan Campbell or Mrs. Harry L. Howe.

After a very interesting and instructive talk on food values by Mrs. A. A. Barton and a brief discussion of first aid by Mrs. R. W. Meeker the meeting adjourned to meet at the regular time, the 1st of November, at the home of Mrs. Dan Campbell. Those planning to attend the Tuesday physical culture class should take the 9 o'clock car.

YULETIDE REMEMBRANCE

The first meeting of the Glendale branch of the National Defenders of Yuletide Remembrance was at the home of the chairman, Mr. Mattison B. Jones, 108 Orange street, on Thursday evening, October 18, to plan a campaign for raising funds for remembering our soldier and sailor boys at Christmas time. Mrs. C. E. Harlan was elected vice chairman and Miss Eulalie Richardson secretary and treasurer. The following committees were decided upon: Ways and means, schools and parent-teacher organizations, fraternal organizations, women's clubs, city and civic organizations, showhouse committee, publicity, committee to select headquarters and another for furnishing and securing telephones for same.

The names of the chairmen of the different committees, together with their assistants, will be given later. This body will form the ways and means committee of the organization. The meeting was adjourned until next Tuesday evening at 7:30, to be held at the home of the chairman, unless headquarters are selected before that time. Suggestions as to how to raise the money needed for this worthy purpose will be gladly received by the chairman.

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD

The Synod of California is meeting at Immanuel church, Los Angeles, and is the largest meeting the church has ever held. The territory includes all California and Nevada. Elders and ministers are equally represented. The expenses of the commissioners are all paid by the synod. The local church is represented by M. P. Harrison, E. D. Stafford and the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds.

Dates of the meetings are October 18 to 22.

The synod adjourns each evening to hear Mr. Sunday at the Tabernacle. Mr. Sunday speaks to the delegates on Saturday morning.

PIONEER CLUB

On Wednesday afternoon the Pioneer Club met with Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke. Only the members were present. Hand sewing and knitting was the occupation of the afternoon. The Pioneer Club is organized on a war-time economy basis and serves only the simplest refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. W. Andrae at her home on Pioneer drive.

BIBLES FOR SOLDIERS

EARL A. ROWELL OF AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY TO SPEAK AT MASS MEETING

T. W. Watson, city manager, will be chairman of the big Liberty Boys' Bible mass meeting to be held Monday evening in the First Methodist church. Get your free reserved seat ticket from your pastor Sunday, or today at any drug store. Owing to the unique character of this meeting the committee in charge expects a crowded house and advises those who want to hear the two famous speakers who will be at this meeting, to be sure of their seats.

Dr. Isaac Ward, Billy Sunday's first assistant, and the one who has charge of the men's meetings, has made friends by his earnestness and eloquence since his arrival with the Sunday party. Those who have heard him once are expressing themselves as pleased at the opportunity of hearing him again. This will be your first and last chance of hearing this noted evangelist.

Dr. Charles C. Sealeman, pastor of the Los Angeles Trinity M. E. church, is known to every resident by reputation. But Monday evening will be his first public address in Glendale. Both Dr. Ward and Dr. Sealeman are giving their services free of charge to this great cause of the "Scriptures for Soldiers" campaign. Monday is supposed to be a rest day for both men, but their interest in this work is so great that they have gladly consented to aid it in any way they can.

Earle A. Rowell, who is in charge of the "Scriptures for Soldiers" campaign on the Pacific coast, is a converted infidel. He is well worth hearing because he has a unique experience to tell. The public is invited to come and hear these men.

LADIES' AID MEETING

An all-day meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist church was held on Thursday at the church. This was the first meeting of the year and much important business was transacted at the business meeting in the afternoon. The ladies spent the morning in sewing for the bazaar, the date for which has been set for November 9. The committee of the Home Missionary Society managed to find time for a meeting during the course of the busy day, and made plans for the district rally of the Woman's Home Missionary Societies, which is to be held in Glendale on November 2. Two hundred out of town guests are expected.

CHAPTER B. A. WORKS FOR RED CROSS

The B. A. Chapter of P. E. O. met on Friday at the home of Mrs. Archie Parker, 311 South Louise street. The morning was devoted to a business meeting followed by a delicious "covered dish" luncheon. In the afternoon the ladies were busy with the sewing of hospital garments for the Red Cross. There were two guests present, Mrs. Olshausen of Tropico and Miss Mattley, the new sewing teacher at the high school. A very profitable day as well as a pleasant one was spent by all present.

A REMARKABLE LADY

MRS. BARBARA GANSERT, NINETY-SEVEN YEARS OLD, COMES TO GLENDALE

Mrs. Barbara Gansert, a very wonderful old lady of 97 years, has come to live with her son, Mr. Charles Gansert, of 1008 1/2 Broadway. Even at her advanced age Mrs. Barbara Gansert leads a busy life, and delights to use not only her nimble fingers but her sharp eyes in such tasks as darning and other hand work, which she accomplishes very deftly without the use of glasses. She takes pleasure, too, in corresponding with her various children and grandchildren, reading their letters and writing the replies without the slightest difficulty. When it is considered that this remarkable old lady has 92 living descendants, it will be realized that her correspondence must be an active one. Of her ten children, eight are still living, and there are 36 grandchildren, 44 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren. Mrs. Gansert remembers many interesting things of her youthful days and enjoys telling them. Among the vivid memories of her girlhood is the tragic picture which remains in her mind of a beheading which she witnessed over 80 years ago in the old country. Her name was Barbara Fetter before her marriage to Christian Gansert on February 28, 1843. Her husband died in Connersville, Ind., September 2, 1903.

Mrs. Gansert belongs to the Presbyterian church and Woman's Society at Connersville, and every day she reads her Bible and the curious old prayer book which she prizes so highly and which is over 200 years old. On May 15 she will be 98 years old.

CAKE AND COOKIE DAY.

The third of the Remembrance Days for "our boys" of the 9th Co. C. A. C. on Reservation Point occurred yesterday, Thursday, when Cake and Cookie Day was observed. Mrs. G. W. Henderson and Mrs. Nanno Woods spent all Thursday morning at the Chamber of Commerce, receiving, listing and packing the delectable "eats" so generously sent by many Glendale folks. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Preston of 725 Adams street, very kindly loaded up their automobile and conveyed the contributions to Reservation Point, where they were heartily welcomed by the boys.

The Broadway Bakery sent a wonderfully beautiful cake, 2 1/2 inches deep, measuring 16 by 24. The entire top was covered with white icing, decorated with a raised border of pink, and dotted with pink sugar rosebuds. On the white icing were the following words, in pink, "To Our Boys from Glendale." The cake was so beautiful that upon request, Mr. F. E. Alexander, of the Glangary Studio, very kindly consented to come to the Chamber of Commerce and take a photograph of it. The photograph will be finished on post cards, an appropriate verse written upon the card, and the cards will be on sale within a few days at a very reasonable price, on behalf of the camp.

The Russell Bakery and the Dolly Varden also sent splendid cakes and cookies, the Glendale Garden Society contributed 120 cinnamon rolls, 40 cup cakes and miscellaneous cookies.

These three Remembrance Days, Candy Day, Pie Day, Cake and Cookie Day were instituted and managed by Mrs. Woods, assisted by Mr. Walter Le Noir Church, Dr. Harrower, Mrs. W. W. McElroy, Mrs. G. W. Henderson, and by kind automobile friends, Messrs. Pierson Hanning, J. F. Preston, Mr. W. W. McElroy and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Preston. Mrs. Woods takes this occasion of again thanking all the friends who contributed to the success of the several undertakings; and hopes that other individuals and societies may continue the joyful duty of finding still better ways and means of being good to our boys "while they are with us."

The following friends contributed cakes and cookies: Mrs. A. C. Burns, Mrs. Chas. Rand, Mrs. G. W. Henderson, Miss Alice Rand, Mrs. Nanno Woods, Mrs. J. N. McGillis, Mrs. Jo. Smith, Mrs. J. F. McArthur, Mrs. Susan Nethery, Mrs. C. L. Peckham, Mrs. F. E. Jack, Mrs. L. M. Keppy, Mrs. R. Farnsworth, Miss Jennie C. Sloan, Mrs. T. H. Addison, Miss Marion Addison, Mrs. A. S. Goff, Mrs. A. D. McCoy, Mrs. L. B. Ashton, Mrs. J. L. Walters, Mrs. W. E. Young, Mrs. W. S. Carmichael, Mrs. J. Redmond, Mrs. C. Grist, Horsch Grocery, the Dolly Varden, Russell Bakery, Glendale Garden Society and the Broadway Bakery. Mr. C. W. Ingledue contributed a box of apples.

WILL C. WOOD, HIGH SCHOOL COMMISSIONER, URGES PHYSICAL TRAINING

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—Brace up! Shoulders back! Head up! These are the sharp commands the high school boys and girls of California are now getting in accordance with the new physical education law, according to Will C. Wood, state high school commissioner. "The courses are very popular, even in the country districts," says Wood. "The country people have assumed heretofore that their children do not need physical education. Physical examination of recruits for the army shows that the country boys are quite as defective physically as are the city boys." Wood has just received a letter from Adjutant General McCain, of the United States army, urging schools and colleges to give training necessary to overcome slouchiness of body and mind. General McCain says that mental and physical indifference is responsible for many rejections of candidates for the reserve officers' training camp. Wood has sent out a bulletin to the schools emphasizing mental alertness, accuracy in thinking and acting, clearness in enunciation and sureness of carriage and bearing.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—Frankfurters are to be used as a war diet in the state institutions when Dr. M. E. Jaffa, state food expert, completes his amendment of the present food schedule, W. G. McMillin, state purchasing agent, has announced. McMillin says that by substituting frankfurters, chopped meats and cheaper cuts of beef, the state can effect a saving of $50,000 annually. The quantity of frankfurters used is to be increased from 70 to 100 tons annually. Veal, mutton and cured meats such as ham and bacon are to be eliminated from the menu, as the (Continued on Page 2)

TROPICO THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

A pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by the Tropico Thursday Afternoon Club at the home of Mrs. E. F. Tholen, Oct. 18th. The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated with flags and flowers. Some time was spent in a business session, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Wesley Bullis. Some changes were made in the by-laws and the club voted enthusiastically to assist the local Red Cross in its Christmas work for the soldiers who have gone from our community. A program of patriotic music followed which consisted of the national airs of Belgium, France and England, with a brief history of each given by Mrs. Tholen, and in closing the club sang with much feeling, the Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. H. E. Fry accompanying on the piano.

During the social hour the ladies laid aside their Red Cross knitting on which they had been busily working and enjoyed a cup of tea served by the hostesses of the afternoon, Mesdames E. F. Tholen and Edward Lynch.

There were thirty-six guests who came in Halloween costumes. A merry evening was spent in Halloween games with music and a good time. The decorations were in orange and black and refreshments of pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee. Later in the evening, shortly before the guests dispersed, a second surprise was revealed in a big birthday cake with candles lit, which was brought in to honor the birthday of Mr. Harry Chase, and was served with delicious punch as a delightful close to a very pleasant evening.

OUR HOME MERCHANTS

It is the worst possible business policy for our people to purchase their personal and household supplies away from home, says the Monrovia News in a special Buy-at-Home edition. This truth is so obvious that none will be found to deny it, and yet too many good citizens continue to practice that bad policy despite their own undisputed convictions concerning the common duty of all citizens to uphold the interests of their own townspeople, and more especially the merchants of the community upon whose shoulders fall the principal burden of civic obligation.

Without our merchants we would have no town in the modern sense. We could not maintain a city worthy of the name without them. Our mercantile interests are the blood of our municipal veins, and we must keep that blood flowing in good health, otherwise the city must perish as a wholesome organization amongst the communities of Southern California.

The good reasons for home trading are myriad, and we here give a few of them:

We should trade at home because a careful comparison of the prices and values will show that on nearly everything we can save money by doing so;

Because the merchandise sold by our home merchants is of standard quality and workmanship, and its wearing qualities are backed not only by them, but also by the factories that make them;

Because if we are dissatisfied with an article it is easy and convenient to either exchange it for something suitable or get our money back without going to the bother of writing a letter and packing it for shipment;

Because when we buy from our home merchant he gives us the benefit of his valuable experience and knowledge if we are in doubt as to just what we need;

Because, if we spend money with our home merchant, when we have the cash, he gets to know us and if we get hard up he will give us credit, which we can't get from distant concerns;

Because a big per cent of every dollar that is spent here, stays here, and it's distributed back to the rest of us in the way of wages, rent, interest, doctor bills, lawyers' fees, taxes, and the purchase of the necessities of life for the merchant and his clerks;

Because our home merchants employ our sons and our daughters and our friends;

Because the more business that is done here the faster and bigger our town will grow;

Because our home merchants want our trade tomorrow as well as today, and they are always going to give a square deal to get it and keep it.

TO HELP PROVIDE 10,000 MEN TO OFFICER MERCHANT MARINE.

Ten thousand men are needed to officer the nation's new merchant marine. The University of California is co-operating with the U. S. Shipping Board in conducting courses to equip citizens for this new career. The first men to complete these courses, as conducted for the shipping board at San Francisco, San Pedro and San Diego, have just finished a six-weeks course and are taking their examinations for licenses—most of them as second officers—before the U. S. local steamboat inspectors, at San Francisco and at San Pedro. The inspectors report that these men have shown the greatest zeal and interest and that they are likely to make excellent officers for the merchant marine.

With millions of tons of new merchant ships soon to sail the seas under the American flag, the opportunity for careers as officers in the merchant marine has vastly expanded. Men who wish, immediately on completing their training, to become officers in the merchant marine, must have had sea experience. On successfully completing a six-weeks course they are then eligible to take the examinations of the Steamboat Inspection Service for appointment as junior officer on coastwise or South American vessels. After serving for two months at $75 a month, they will then be at liberty to go on full pay, at the rate prevailing in the Atlantic service—and that rate is at present high. Enlistment is not required.

Even men who have not had sea experience may take these shipping board courses—either in a University of California extension class, conducted every afternoon except Saturday, from 1 to 5 o'clock, or in the six-months course held from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, or in the five-months course conducted by the San Francisco Board of Education, from 7:15 to 9:15 o'clock every evening. The San Francisco schools are all held in the Ferry building. There are schools also in San Pedro and San Diego.

Men with sea experience should apply to Inspector of Hulls John Guthrie, U. S. Customs House, San Francisco. Landsmen without previous sea experience should apply at the university extension office, 309 Lick building, San Francisco, or at California hall, Berkeley. On successfully completing the course, men without previous sea experience will be given opportunity to obtain employment with various shipping interests of San Francisco. After a year of sea experience they can then apply for the government examinations.

These courses require a preliminary knowledge of elementary arithmetic. The instruction given, as arranged by Farnham P. Griffiths, chief of section five of the recruiting service of the U. S. shipping board, and Prof. A. O. Leuschner, director of the students observatory of the University of California, includes thorough training in the mathematics used by navigators, the use of the nautical almanac and nautical tables, the reading of charts, the use of nautical instruments, the determining of latitude and longitude, chronometer correction, days' work on shipboard, computing practice, and a wide range of practical problems the officers of the merchant marine must know how to solve.

Federal Food Administrator Herbert Hoover asks California to concentrate all energies for the next fortnight upon the food conservation pledge campaign which ends November 4.

JAMES R. FLETCHER

Borne by the hands of his comrades, sturdy veterans of the civil strife of fifty years ago, the remains of James Rivers Fletcher were laid to rest in the Forest Lawn Memorial Park on Friday morning, following the impressive service of the Episcopal church rendered at the mortuary of the White Company in Los Angeles.

The deceased was a veteran of the Civil War, a graduate of Annapolis Naval Academy, and a member of the N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., which organization had honored him at different times with the offices of adjutant and junior vice commander.

The closing of the book of life for Midshipman Fletcher marks the end of a useful career. The pages of fame record him not, but in the hearts of all to whom it was given to know him intimately, to those who were in close communion with his keen intellect and vibrant heart-strings, there is carried a something more useful, more lasting than a graven record. Stored in that fertile brain were opinions worthy of our highest judiciary; heart gripping stories of human interest worthy of a London; drolleries and satires worthy of a Lincoln, which, because of his natural unobtrusiveness, remained all unguessed by the less intimate. A patriot of the old school, truly he loved his country. In contrast to the pacifists of our day, picture this man walking forty miles across mountain ranges to enlist in defense of his country at the time of its travail in '61. His own light he hid under a bushel, yet it burns after him with increased brilliancy in the breasts of others. He builded better than he knew, in that his knowledge, his humor and his pathos have been transmitted to all those with whom he was associated to brighten and broaden their lives and lighten their burdens. With other environment, with a lesser degree of love for the human race, with a more forward nature he might have become a high dignitary in the world, but, after all, it's better that he was plain Jim Fletcher.

If an epitaph were to be written it could pay no greater tribute than this: "You have brought us greater wisdom. You have helped the sun to shine. You were loved by little children, and the world is better for your visit, 'Daddy Jim.'" government urges the conservation of calves, sheep and hogs, says McMillin. Barley and rice flour will be substituted for wheat flour. The entire scheme of the new food program, says McMillin, is to conserve food wherever possible without decreasing the nutritive value.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 20.—Neither shopping nor service in any of the manifold war activities will be permitted to serve as an excuse for failure to subscribe for Liberty Bonds if the present plans of the Women's Liberty Loan Committee carry. Liberty Loan booths will be established in down town shops, hotels and department stores attracting attention of women to the chance to let their dollars help lick the Kaiser. Mrs. W. R. Parnell and Mrs. Edward Dexter Knight, chairman of the San Francisco Women's Liberty Loan committee, are conducting a speaking tour in behalf of the bonds. Mrs. Parnell has been directing a "walking tour" of down town shops—hair dressing parlors and manicure shops where there are large numbers of women to be interested in the bonds.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 20.—Sam's soldiers at the Presidio and the coast defense troops at the five forts forming part of San Francisco's defenses, are buying their share of Liberty Bonds. Lieut. A. J. Eddy, in charge of the bond sales at the Presidio, reported that last week's subscriptions totaled $43,500 and the men are buying heavily this week. Col. Hains, commanding the coast defenses at Fort Scott, started the work among the artillerymen by subscribing $3,000 and the privates began buying proportionately.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—"How to speak sweetly" is the newest course offered by the University of California extension division. Girls of sweet sixteen will be taught how to acquire soft, musical, honeylike voices; club women will learn how to make their voices bring response from the dearest dub in the audience; mothers will be shown how to address children so as to get quick but calm response. "Foreign critics often accuse American women and girls of having voices lacking in softness and beauty," said Miss Jean Campbell McMillin who will conduct the course. "Our object is to leave them no chance for criticism."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Uncle Sam's soldiers who already have offered their lives for their country are not one bit slower in offering their money. Here is the latest list of Liberty Bond subscriptions by troops stationed around San Francisco:

Officers of the U. S. training camp studying for artillery commissions at Fort Scott, $9,000; officers of the coast defenses, $8,250; Fort Miley, $12,000; national guard coast artillery camp, $9,000; Fort Barry, $450; Fort Funston, $5,650; Fort Scott dock workers, $700.

And the end is not yet.

ANIMALS IN FIRE

Most animals are afraid of fire, and will fly from it in terror. To others there is a fascination about a flame, and they will walk into it, even though tortured by the heat, observes a writer in the United Presbyterian.

A horse in a burning stable goes mad with fear, but a dog is as cool as at any time. He keeps his nose down to the floor, where the air is purest, and sets himself calmly to finding his way out. Cats in fire cry piteously. They hide their faces from the light and crouch in corners. When their rescuer lifts them they are as a rule quite docile and subdued, never biting or scratching.

Birds seem to be hypnotized by fire, and keep perfectly still; even the loquacious parrot in a fire has nothing to say. Cows, like dogs, do not show alarm. They are easy to lead forth and often find their way out themselves.

THE GET-TOGETHER LUNCHEON

(As It Appeared to a Guest.)
Thursday, Glendale had the surprise of the good year 1917. It was the Get-together Luncheon in Masonic Hall.

A few days prior business men and women of Glendale received a very attractive invitation to that function. The unique thing about it was its lack of signature. But something, including the mystery, made a great many of us yearn to go. Yet being at the noon hour, few of those who wished could leave their business for the hour and a half expected. But all who did go were well repaid. The entertainment was a marked success from every point of view.

1st, "Feed 'em well."
That was done—just as those who know would expect of those hostesses from the Homelike Church.

"Home cooking?" Well I should say. It seemed as if Kentucky, Virginia & Co. had sent on their choicest chefs for that auspicious occasion. "And all this for 75 cents!" as more than one well-fed and therefore contented man remarked.

But the episode which made the next greatest hit was something sprung by Chairman Cowan, to whose initiative and harmony-promotion powers Glendale is indebted for that most pleasant two hours.

In the outer hall and ante-rooms there had been a regular handshaking fest, and a spirit of camaraderie pervaded the place—fostered no little by the smiling, cordial greetings of Prof. Herman C. Joy of Glendale Union High School, who received your 75 cents and handed you your ticket with an air of welcome which made you feel that you had done something handsome. But to return to the inside fest.

The chairman said that being a get-acquainted festivity, he would ask each one to rise from the chair at table and state name, business and address. He set the example by saying, "My name is A. T. Cowan and I publish the Glendale Evening News." So it went all around those long tables till about 90 who had been feeding as one, responded to that ingenious invitation. It gave everybody opportunity to "place" everybody else. The replies were very characteristic. But the grand round of chivalrous California courtesy climaxed when the only lady arose from her seat near the chairman and said in a voice that would make you buy whatever she offered for sale: "I am Mrs. Anna L. Smith; I sell fine millinery at No. 433 South Brand boulevard. The very loveliest hats your mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts ever gazed upon in rapturous delight." (The thought as remembered, not her exact words.)

Dozens of Glendalians soon felt that they knew more Glendalians than they ever knew before. Good thing for Glendale.

The chairman introduced the first speaker, Mr. L. M. Barker of Barker Brothers, Los Angeles, dealers in house and office furnishings.

The interesting and eloquent speaker confessed to some consternation. In substance he said: "I was invited to talk to you about community co-operation. I am astounded at the evidence of such co-operation before me. But the risk of 'taking coals to Newcastle,' I shall say something about my assigned subject."

"People may live in the same neck o' the woods a long time without becoming a community, because they have few interests in common, and are not working together for their common good. But here in Glendale there is certainly something doing in a large way. Glendale is far from being like the little girl whose father was born in New York, her mother in San Francisco and she in Omaha. 'Why how on earth did we three people ever get together?' was her naive conundrum.

"Not another city in California is endowed with the superior advantages of Glendale—cheap and good electricity, water and gas, beautiful, well-lighted streets, lovely homes, SURE!

"Tim Casey and his friend, Pat Cline,
Were blasting rock one day.
When the blast went off and blew poor Tim
Clear to the Milky Way.
When Tim came down he came so fast
His soul was left behind—
An arm and leg were all of him
That they could ever find.
The foreman said to Pat: "Go home
And see Tim's poor old wife,
And gently break the news to her
That Tim has lost his life."
So Pat went sadly to Tim's house
And when he saw Tim's wife, said he,
"Does Casey have insurance in the 'Provident' L. & T.?"
"You bet your life he has," says she;
"Hurrah for that," says Pat.
"We can't collect your husband
But you'll surely collect that."

W. B. Kirk
Glendale "Provident" Agent.

good stores, fine churches, schools and lodge buildings such as we are in, and the Elks are erecting. Three efficient sanitariums, one of the best moving picture theatres extant (The Palace Grand). All around are fine chicken and rabbit ranches, fruit and farm products galore. A great ice plant. There are surprisingly numerous businesses well represented in Glendale. There are 1050 autos in use here, and new ones being bought every day. (May I venture to remark that includes Fords?)

"In 10 or 12 years or less you have made a city grow from a village yet you have a lot of big things to do. It may be well to remember that more games are lost from over-confidence than from overtraining.

"Among other things:—
"1. Encourage the idea of trading at home. I am for it. The local merchant pays taxes, contributes to every good thing that comes along. Is he not entitled to your support? He is, for your own sake also. It helps Glendale to keep Glendale money in Glendale so far as is practicable.

"2. The Ivanhoe Bridge is worth keeping after till you get it—even if you may 'take up a collection.'

"3. Glendale should have public parks, recreation centers, baths, etc.

"4. But your greater problem, as is ours at Ramona Acres, and everybody's in every Southern California small city, is sewage.

"It can be solved only by inter-city co-operation. The Southern California Community of Cities could work together and achieve a triumph in sewer construction in a big way and drain all that should be drained far out into the sea.

"Reduction works are a menace as well as a failure, demonstrated. This beauty spot should not be marred by any such make-shift monstrosity.

"Inter-community co-operation is growing to inter-state, and inter-national co-operation. The Monroe Doctrine may soon prove inefficient—not big enough for our own necessities. None of our Southern California cities is entirely dependent—no one wholly dependent—but all are inter-dependent.

"The old plan of competition being the life of trade, carried past the pivotal point, results in the death or partial strangulation of trade. Limited competition is good if not carried to disastrous extremes.

"Fine success means building up the United States and the world, including misused Germany.

"5. But the biggest job immediately confronting us is the Liberty Bonds. Billions of dollars are needed but I believe any sum needed will be in due time forthcoming.

"Our boys are going to the front to fight for us. It is up to the United States people to buy all those Liberty Bonds and throw a big scare into Berlin."

The other speaker of the day, Mr. Frederick Baker, made an unanswerable, forceful and eloquent appeal to buy Liberty Bonds—NOW!

The chairman announced that at the big meeting in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce the night before he had appointed Jesse Smith chairman of a committee to carry on a brisk and vigorous election campaign in Glendale to vote the fire protection bonds. Mr. Smith responded to a request to say a word. He said that a committee of five women and five men would make a campaign which meant victory for those necessary bonds, and they would call on the business men of Glendale for aid and encouragement.

Without doubt, that get-together get-acquainted luncheon was a superior success. By a standing vote it was unanimously decided to have "the likes of it" at least once a month, at noon or in the evening as thought best.

WALT LE NOIR CHURCH.

AT CAMP LEWIS

CAMP LEWIS, Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 20.—Coney Island will have no appeal for the selective service men at Camp Lewis. They will have a pleasure park all their own. P. W. Smythe and H. F. Proctor, with the approval of Major-General Greene, now are building a big amusement park covering 100 acres right in the midst of the camp. It contains everything from movies to a "chute the chutes." Under the concessions contract a portion of the profits will go to a soldiers' benefit fund.

Andrea Bollentini, Italian, drafted from San Francisco, raised himself on the shoulders of two companions. He looked over the parade grounds and saw the 30,000 soldiers drilling. "My God," exclaimed Andrea, "Kaiser Bill, you bidda yourself gooda bye."

EPWORTH LEAGUE PROGRAM

Tomorrow evening, at the West Glendale M. E. church, under the direction of Miss Irene Jones, the first vice-president, a temperance program will be given instead of the regular devotional meeting. There will be several musical numbers in addition to a talk by Miss Mable Galley, ex-secretary of the Los Angeles Christian Endeavor Union, and present Intermediate superintendent of the C. E. Union of Oregon. Miss Galley is connected quite extensively with the Young People's Society and also with the W. C. T. U., so we may be assured of a splendid program. The Epworth League orchestra will be present to assist with the service, which will begin promptly at 6:30 p. m. Everybody come and bring a friend.

NEW RATE FOR ELECTRICITY IN GLENDALE

—the Public Service Department of the City of Glendale announces a new and materially Reduced Rate for Electric Current within the city limits of Glendale.

—this reduction coming in the face of skyrocketing prices, increased material and labor costs, and surrounded by a general upward trend of the cost of doing business, is deserving of careful consideration.

—this rate is a complete departure from the usual form of utility rates and has been determined only after a great amount of study and investigation. Our idea has been to establish a rate that will permit and encourage the generous use of electricity for all purposes.

—we respectfully present the following rate which will be charged for electricity within the City of Glendale:

EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

50 CENT SERVICE CHARGE (this is to cover the cost of maintaining service, reading meters, billing, collecting, etc.)

2 CENTS PER KILOWATT HOUR

for the first 100 Kilowatt Hours

1 CENT PER KILOWATT HOUR

for all over 100 Kilowatt Hours

—this rate is the lowest we know of for domestic service. To use it to the best advantage it is advisable to employ electricity for all purposes including Cooking—Special Heating—and Water Heating.
